Mayor Olson turned the meeting over to Treasurer Gross in the absence of Comm. Callahan. Gross explained that the budget binders show a synopsis of the village as a whole. At December 31st, we are three-quarters of the way through the fiscal year, therefore everyone should have 25% of their budgets remaining. Overall, the village is right on target. Gross also explained that the revenues, with the exception of video gaming monies, have remained on target despite the pandemic. She pointed out that all taxes levied were collected. There were no questions.
